

Elevate your STEM classes with an In2science mentor

In2science is a free Victorian government-funded program that connects university student mentors to high schools to increase student engagement and outcomes in STEM classes and inspire young minds.

How our mentors can help

- Support advanced or disengaged students
- Work with students on projects and investigations
- Be a helping hand for practical work and theoretical content
- Connect with students about their interests and inspire learning

Learn more and request a mentor today!
In2science.org.au

